Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on Aug 27, 2002
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11; 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-2 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saito [US 5,528,697] in view of Shimakawa et al. [US 5,894,263].

Saito discloses an electromagnetic actuator [figure 5] comprising:

- a casing [18];
- a coil [25];
- yoke portions [26, 29] defining a gap between poles thereof [figure 5];
- a diaphragm [24];
- first and second vibration plates [24, 27];
- a radially arranged magnet [28] mounted, and suspended, between the vibration plates having its north and south poles parallel to the vibration plates and diaphragm; and

Art Unit: 2832

- wherein the diaphragm vibrates producing an audible output when a high frequency current is applied to the coil and the vibration plate [27] vibrates upon application of a low frequency current to the coil.

Saito disclose the instant claimed invention except for: the magnet being a ring shape magnet magnetized with a south pole located at one of an outer or inner periphery and a north pole at the other of the outer or inner periphery of the magnet.

Shimakawa et al. discloses a vibration generating apparatus having a ring shaped magnet [19] magnetized with a south pole located at one of an outer or inner periphery and a north pole at the other of the outer or inner periphery of the magnet.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the polarization design of Shimakawa et al. for the magnet of Saito for the purpose of providing improved flux density.

Claims 8-10, as best able to be understood in view of the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saito.

Saito disclose the instant claimed invention except for: the specific support structure of the vibration plates within the casing.

The specific support structure used for the magnet components and vibration plates would have been an obvious design consideration based on the specific application of the device.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2 and 8-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion
